DENVER, CO. — August 12th, 2005 TransTech USA, a leading corporate advisory firm assisting companies commercializing technology has become an industry sponsor of the Colorado Institute of Technology (CIT).

"TransTech USA has actively supported CIT by providing insights and resources into multiple aspects of CIT's business. We are excited that TransTech USA has joined a market leading group that includes SUN, Oracle and Level 3, amongst others, as industry sponsors. Peter Bryant, founder of TransTech USA, brings a wealth of experience in the global technology industry and a unique perspective on how to develop and grow Colorado's technology sector which will be invaluable as CIT executes on its mission." said Midge Cozzens, CEO of CIT.

"We are delighted about this sponsorship – I am passionate about growing Colorado's technology sector by developing local companies into global successes and attracting some of the many international companies relocating to the US to base themselves in Colorado" said Bryant of TransTech USA. "CIT provides leadership through its partnership between government, education institutions and private enterprise that is necessary if we are to meaningfully grow the technology sector's contribution to the Colorado economy".
